Bathroom Remodels

Bathrooms are great rooms to remodel in terms of a monetary home investment as the homeowner can recoup on average 50 to 65+% of the remodel cost in terms of resale value on the home. This is great news for those that want to remodel but have plans to move, whether to upsize, downsize or even relocate. So read on for current trends in baths starting from the floor up!

Project Financing Simplified

Financing options to meet your project needs.

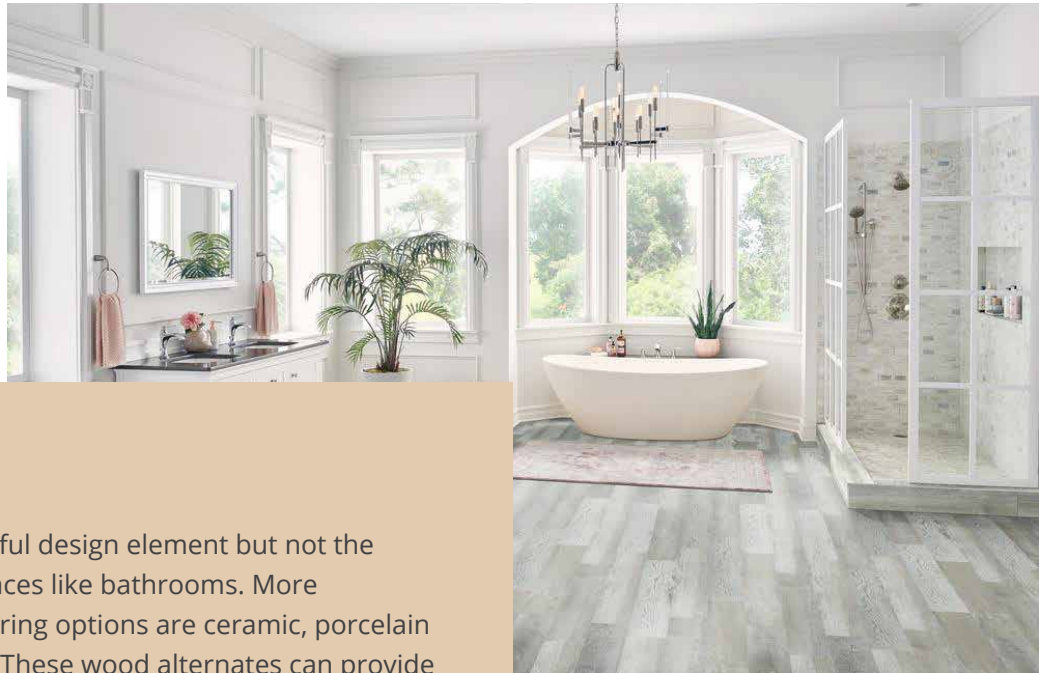

Key benefits*:

- Fast, and secure application process
- Low monthly payment options
- Flexible terms from 12 months to 12 years
- Expanded credit lines up to $100k

Floating Vanities

By securely anchoring the vanity to the wall, i.e., floating, the homeowner gains the illusion of space as the cabinet does not extend all the way to the floor. This uninterrupted floor line allows for easier cleaning as well as provides a place to stash wastebaskets, scales, etc. Another plus is that the vanity can be custom mounted to the height of the homeowner.

Wood Look Tiles

Wood flooring is a beautiful design element but not the most resilient for wet spaces like bathrooms. More functional bathroom flooring options are ceramic, porcelain or luxury vinyl tile/plank. These wood alternates can provide stunning good looks yet be waterproof and textured, read non-slip.

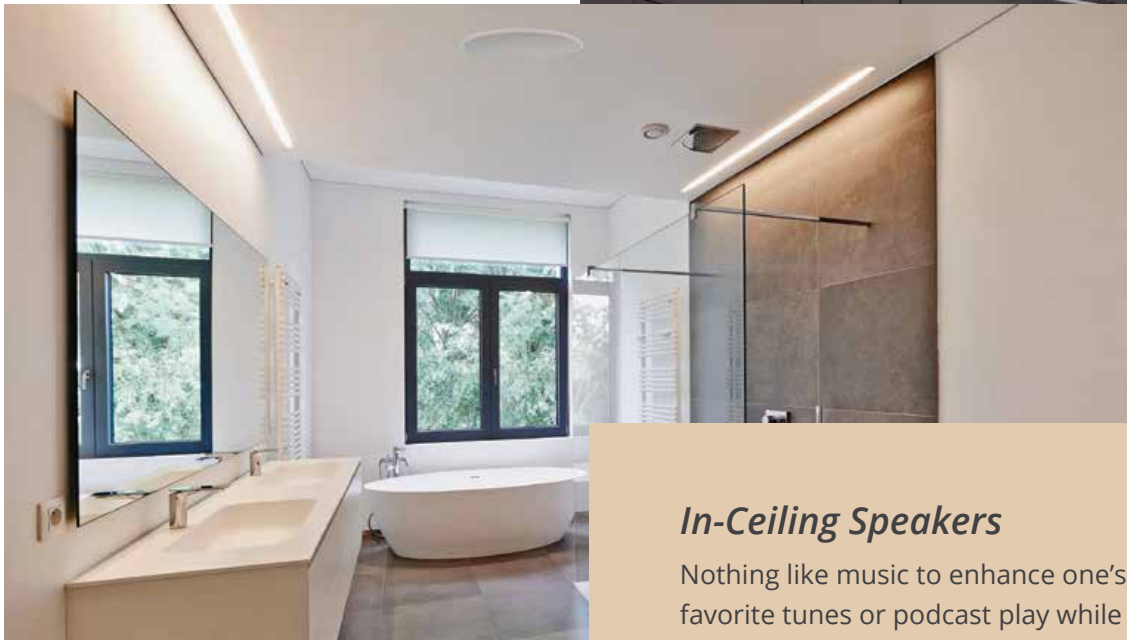

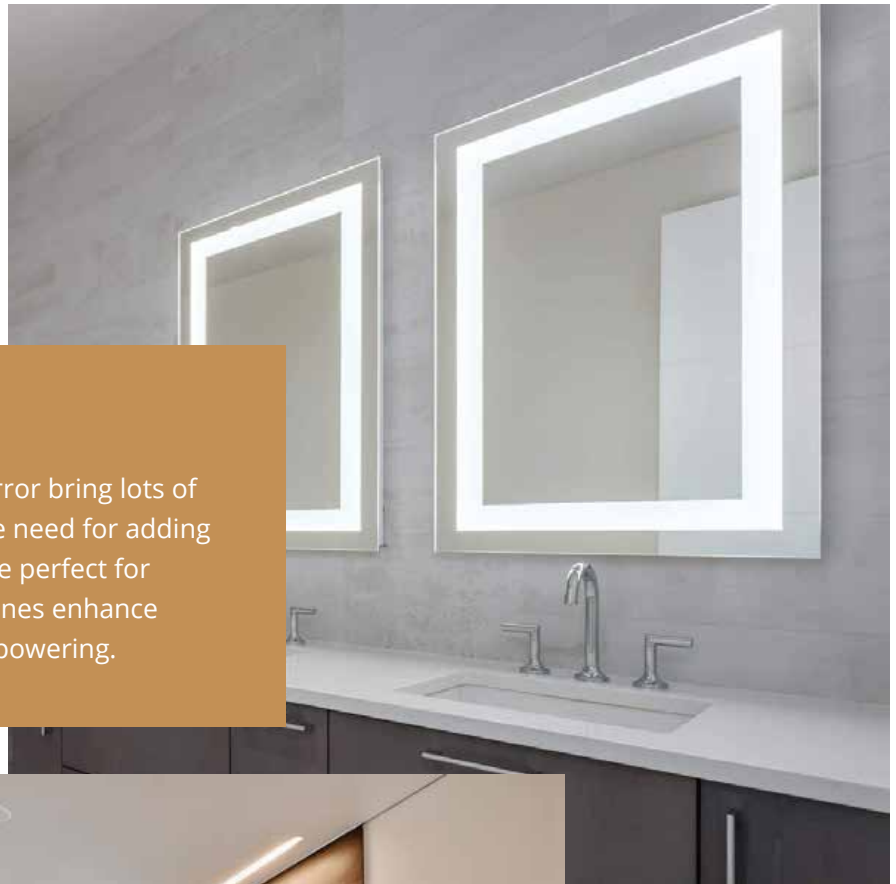

Walk-In Glass Showers

Add a spa-like feel by incorporating a full glass shower. The glass walls visually expand the space by allowing light to fill the space. Glass is a timeless look, thereby a design that will last many years. A custom full enclosure can keep the heat and steam in for a toasty shower. Add a heated floor and you may never want to leave.

Lighted Mirrors

Mirrors like the Seura Vanity mirror bring lots of light into bathrooms without the need for adding more light fixtures. The lights are perfect for makeup application. The clean lines enhance bathroom designs without overpowering.

In-Ceiling Speakers

Nothing like music to enhance one's mood. Let your favorite tunes or podcast play while you prepare for your day or unwind at the end of it. Sonance Extreme in-ceiling speakers are designed to handle humidity and temperature changes while providing quality sound. Perfect for bathrooms, showers, and saunas.
